

Save the Date

Feminist Development Policy – Transforming International Cooperation

---

Tuesday, 27 September 2022
Berlin, Germany (hybrid meeting)

The German Federal Ministry for Economic Cooperation and Development (BMZ) is honoured to invite you to a high-level conference on feminist development policy as a response to multiple global crises.

Please join the conference via our online tool on Tuesday, 27 September 2022, 9:00 a.m. - 12:30 p.m. CEST

“We are living in times of multiple crises that are making existing gender inequalities particularly evident. The reasons for this are discriminatory social structures, norms, and roles, which must be overcome if we want to achieve gender equality and sustainable democracies. And this is precisely why we need a feminist development policy, especially in times of crisis.”

(Svenja Schulze, German Federal Minister for Economic Cooperation and Development)

Women and girls in all their diversity are key agents of change for socially, economically, and ecologically sustainable development and lasting peace. Yet, no country in the world has achieved gender equality. In order to accelerate progress, Germany, under Minister Schulze’s lead, has adopted a feminist development policy.

At the event, Minister Schulze will discuss important features of Germany’s new feminist approach to development cooperation with high-ranking participants as well as practitioners from civil society and international organizations.

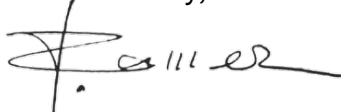

The main objective of the event is to receive further input and have an exchange on best practices, approaches, and core elements of a feminist development policy. Moreover, peacebuilders and activists from the Middle East / North Africa region will illustrate the crucial role women play in peace and dialogue processes and share their expectations of a feminist development policy. The programme will be rounded off by creative and activist input on our feminist future.

The event is linked to an extensive consultation process with civil society, academia, multilateral organisations, and other actors relevant for the new German feminist development policy strategy and envisaged gender action plan.

Please feel free to forward this information to other colleagues or interested parties. An official invitation letter with further details about the event and a meeting link will be sent out in the coming weeks.

We look forward to your participation.

Yours sincerely,

Dr. Jürgen Zattler

Director General – Directorate-General 4

(International development policy and United Nations; 2030 Agenda; Social and Environmental transformation; Climate)

Federal Ministry for Economic Cooperation and Development, Germany